Motorized Units Of Guardsmen Are Off For Camp Jackson

Eighty Of New Recruits Will Go By Train

At 8 o'clock this morning Headquarters Battery and Battery F, 128th Field Artillery, comprised of Sedalians, departed for a year's training in the United States Army. The motorized units are en route to Camp Jackson, South Carolina, and are expecting to arrive there Tuesday, December 10, about noon.

Eighty men who enlisted in the guards a few days before they were mobilized into federal service, remained at the National Guard Armory on West Second street, throughout the day. They depart at 11:57 o'clock tonight over the Missouri-Kansas-Texas railroad for St. Louis. At St. Louis they meet other guardsmen and a special troop train will be run from St. Louis to Camp Jackson.

There were but few mothers and fathers, wives and sweethearts on hand to bid farewell to the troopers. However a large number of the men who stayed at home Wednesday night and told their families good-bye when they left for Convention Hall to report early this morning.

Dined In Cafes

About 4 o'clock the men at Convention Hall were awakened and they immediately began to "break camp." Later they were taken to downtown cafes where they had their breakfast. The men were also served their last evening meal Wednesday night at the eating places where meals were arranged.

They returned to the hall and immediately began to pack the various army trucks, and this work delayed the Sedalia units over an hour. They departed from Sedalia shortly after 8 o'clock, and were met at Broadway and Grand avenue by Battery E of Clinton which unit trailed Battery F, with Headquarters taking the lead.

Major James Nolin is in charge of the troop movement by trucks, with Captain Harry O. Berry in command of Headquarters Battery and First Lieutenant Pat Handley in command of Battery F.

Lieutenant James M. Blue is in charge of the eighty men out of Sedalia, while Lieutenant Mann will be in charge of the twenty men from Clinton, who are making the trip on the railroad.

Captain John C. "Jack" McLaughlin will be in command of all troops on the train.

Historic Battery

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 5.—(AP)—Historic old Battery A of the Missouri National Guards 128th Field Artillery was off to a new adventure today—a year of training for national defense.

In 32 trucks, the battery, a St. Louis unit, and Battery B of Mexico, rolled down highway 61 bound for Caruthersville, Mo., first stop en route to Camp Jackson, S. C. Capt. John W. Casey was in command.

Born during the war of 1912, Battery A is answering its first peace-time call to active duty. But many times the unit has responded for war, built up a rich tradition in the nation's military service.

Before Battery A departed, 250 "old grads"—men who fought with the unit during the World War—feted the 1940 personnel at a banquet. A speaker at the affair dipped almost 100 years into history to recall one of the unit's great campaigns.

In 1846, Battery A marched under command of General Doniphan from Fort Leavenworth, Kas., to Mexico—participating in one of the longest and most successful treks in U. S. military history.

Several outstate units of the 128th field artillery will arrive in St. Louis today. They are the regimental headquarters battery, stationed at Columbia, and the second battalion, comprising units from Sedalia, Clinton and Boonville. All will leave tomorrow for Camp Jackson. Saturday the rest of the regiment departs.

Greeks Capture Premet In Push Into Albania

Fall Of Couple
More Cities Said
To Be Imminent

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, Dec. 5.—(AP)—Greek sources said that the Greek troops entered Porto Edda today and were expected to occupy Agirocastro tomorrow.

ATHENS, Dec. 5.—(AP)—Greek forces launched dawn attacks today on Porto Edda and Argirocastro, Italy's last remaining big bases in the southwestern corner of Albania, according to a Greek report from the front, and the two cities were reported about to fall.

The main road from Porto Edda, Albania, was said to be under Greek control, but this left open escape by a tortuous coastal route, less improved than the main road running through Agirocastro.

One report, however, said Porto Edda was completely cut off from communication with the rest of Albania. Porto Edda, formerly called Santi Quaranta (Forty Saints), was renamed for Premier Mussolini's daughter, wife of Foreign Minister Count Ciano.

A dispatch from the Argirocastro area said:

"Our troops have made further considerable advances and occupied additional important positions."

Another said that the Argirocastro radio station had been silent since last night shortly after it was officially stated in Athens that the Italians were withdrawing from Argirocastro toward Tepelini.

The Greek army announced today the capture of the key town of Premet on the central Albanian front.

Casualties Heavy

The fall of Premet followed fierce fighting in which the Italians suffered heavy casualties and the loss of considerable equipment, the Greek high command reported. More than 500 Fascist troops were said to have surrendered.

The Italians also were reported to be retreating on the northern flank of the 100-mile battlefield, where the Greeks said their forces captured important mountain positions northwest of Pogradetz in a drive toward Elbasan, and the Albanian capital, Tirana. The exact point reached by the spearhead of the Greek advance in this sector was not disclosed.

Here too, the Greek high command, said the Italians suffered heavy losses in men and equipment.

Modern Story Of The Golden Fleece

BUCHAREST, Dec. 5.—(AP)—This is a modern story of the Golden Fleece.

Romanian customs officials became suspicious of blood on a flock of sheep some Bulgarian peasants were taking out of Rumania into Dobruja, now part of Bulgaria.

Investigation showed hides had been cut, gold inserted under the skin, and the cuts sewed up. Some sheep wore gold bells around their necks, others had gold pieces hidden by long wool.

The Bulgarians were arrested.

President To

West Indies

BY DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

ABOARD U. S. S. MAYRANT

AT KINGSTON, Jamaica, Dec. 5

—(P)—(Via Raido)—President

Roosevelt today arrived at this

British West Indies possession—

site of a new U. S. defense base —on his cruise in waters south of the United States.

Except for word that the island's governor general would lunch with the president aboard the cruiser Tuscaloosa, no announcement was made of Mr.

Roosevelt's plans.

The stop here, however, indicated further that one purpose of the voyage would be to inspect sites for U. S. air and naval bases obtained from the British in return for the transfer of 50 U. S.

destroyers to the British navy.

Before leaving the U. S. mainland at Miami, Fla., Tuesday, the president declined either to confirm or deny that such inspections would be included on the trip.

President Roosevelt spent part of yesterday afternoon at the

President Shoots Miner In Head

FULTON, Mo., Dec. 5.—(P)—M.

K. Fisher, 48-year-old coal miner, was in critical condition today in a Columbia hospital with a bullet wound in the head suffered.

Officers were told, when a robber fired a shot through the window of his cabin last night.

A man whose name was given as "Gallagher" and who made his home with Fisher at the cabin, 15 miles northwest of here, related details of the shooting to Deputy Sheriff J. O. Self.

He said the robber fired a shot at him, after wounding Fisher, and he feigned death while the man entered the one-room house and took Fisher's billfold.

On certain days in almost every federal court a big batch of "foreigners" take the oath of allegiance to the United States, thus becoming full-fledged citizens of the land. There are names like Andryjan, Blazekovich, Bindofer, Schmidt, Van Dusen, Csaszar, Greenstein, Jejol, Kvasnicka, Mooney, Tsopani, Chisantopoulos, suggesting many sections of Europe.

To these people America has been "home" for five years—perhaps more. Now they know America. They have, perhaps, lost some of their illusions. But to them an America forced to have peacetime conscription, to enact high taxes, to fight unemployment and depression in certain lines of industry—even this America still looked to them like the last, best hope in the entire world.

Addressing them, a kindly, old federal judge speaks these wise words:

"America truly welcomes you. This country's superiority depends upon the services of its servants."

It is another way of affirming that the melting pot still melts.

Refuting An Axis Lie

Pope Pius XII recently delivered a sermon which certain Italo-German axis papers at once tendentiously interpreted and twisted as a sign that the head of the Roman Catholic church shared the axis viewpoint on vital matters.

Now the Pope—unlike political statesmen—cannot rush to the arena and refute every misrepresentation of what he said and what he meant.

The Vatican newspaper, Osservatore Romano, has clarified the issue, however, by stressing that the Pope in his allocution merely reaffirmed in general terms the five points he expounded last Christmas: independence for all nations, great and small... disarmament; international institutions freed of past deficiencies; satisfaction for just demands of nations; and restoration of divine justice, in keeping with Christian ideals.

When Hitler and Mussolini observe these five points there will be some chance for lasting peace in a stricken world.

Learning About American Freedom

In these times it is heartening to note that the New York legislature has passed a law providing that public schools should teach the pupils something about the deep meaning of the Bill of Rights in the American Constitution.

In accordance with this mandate, the State Board of Regents has designated a Bill of Rights week for the New York schools.

It would be a fine thing if everybody took the trouble to read the first 10 amendments to the Constitution. Known as the Bill of Rights, these amendments guarantee about everything the dictators have taken away and that Americans prize.

Just to mention them is to give the measure of American liberty: no established state religion, freedom of religious worship, freedom of speech, freedom of the press, freedom of assembly, no right of search of a man's home without warrant from a court of law, when accused of a crime the right to a speedy, public and impartial trial, coupled with the right to confront witnesses for the prosecution and the right to summon witnesses for the defense.

• Looking Backward*Forty Years Ago

The county court yesterday approved the bonds of the following constables: J. A. Robb, Sedalia, $5,000; C. A. Culp, Cedar; W. H. Eppie, Longwood and James S. Roach, Prairie, $1,000 each.

J. E. Martin of Kansas City, traveling for the Continental Tobacco Co., and who is to open a bowling alley in the new building next to Hotel LeGrande in the near future, is in the city today.

Engineer George McClure, firemen Fifer and Ash, and L. S. Eddins were out hunting quail near Syracuse yesterday, while Ted and Biggie Whipple went to Muddy on the same mission.

"Gentleman from Indiana" by Tarkington; "Man That Corrupted Hadleyburg" by Twain and "Sky Pilot" by Connor are three of 46 new books just added to the shelves at the public library. Among the non-fiction volumes are "With Both Armies in South Africa" by Davis and Mme Roland's "Private Memoirs."

• The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson and Robert S. Allen

WASHINGTON—The future of the Willkie clubs will be decided at a pow-wow of state leaders which generalissimo Oren Root has called for the middle of this month.

Only club chiefs, such as Russell Davenport and a few other Willkie intimates, will participate in the meeting. No Republican party leaders are being invited, and even Willkie himself does not expect to be present, although he may change his mind.

Young Root's private plan is to form the clubs into a nation-wide organization around Willkie, absolutely independent of the Republican party. Root has never been on good terms with GOP leaders, many of whom consider him a meddling amateur with secret designs on the party organization.

During the campaign, Willkie was bombarded with irate GOP complaints against Root. At one time he found it necessary to circulate among all National committeemen a letter from Root disavowing any intention to distribute patronage or intrude in party affairs.

While Willkie received thousands of letters acclaiming his post-election "loyal opposition" broadcast, and while many Willkie club enthusiasts desire to continue the organization, privately Root and Davenport are uncertain about the prospects. Some local clubmen have expressed doubts over the possibility of keeping their groups together in the face of Republican party hostility and without a "cruade" atmosphere.

Meanwhile, Willkie has had a few brushes with Republican National committeemen, who resented "orders" from him. There has been no real row, but the politicos let him know that they do not consider him the party's boss.

British Invasion

The British are coming to Washington at a rate that almost amounts to a second invasion. Even in 1814, when the Redcoats burned the capitol, their force was scarcely more impressive.

Actually there are 430 representatives of the British government in Washington today—130 members of the embassy staff, 300 members of the British Purchasing Commission and British Air Commission. The figure includes everyone—officers, clerks, messengers, and chauffeurs.

The British embassy and chancery now is the largest diplomatic establishment in Washington, but it is not large enough. An annex has been added to care for an overflow of coding clerks and officials of the office of Economic Warfare.

Meanwhile the two British commissions occupy space in four other buildings. They started out in modest quarters in the Hibbs building, expanded to the entire top floor of the Willard hotel, added further space in the Adams building, and most recently have taken over Andrew Mellon's old apartment building at 1785 Massachusetts avenue to accommodate the Air Commission.

These are the British in Washington alone. In addition, the New York office of the Purchasing Commission numbers 1,000 persons, plus 500 inspectors who travel about the country testing the wide assortment of articles, from ships to airplanes, which are being purchased in the United States.

Three-Pen Signature

The Ramspeck Civil Service Act has a dual distinction. In addition to extending civil service rating to more unclassified government employees than any similar law in history (about 150,000) it also required longer to sign.

The long-drawn out signature was because the president had promised a pen used in the signing ceremony to each of three people: Rep. Bob Ramspeck of Georgia and Senator Jim Mead of New York, co-sponsors of the bill; and Rep. Jennings Randolph of West Virginia, ranking member of the Civil Service committee.

This meant splitting his signature into three parts and using a different pen for each. The three pens were placed on his desk when he was ready to sign, but when he looked for the inkwell, it had mysteriously disappeared. After several minutes, White House Clerk Rudolph Forster finally produced the ink.

Then as the president was halfway through his signature, the second pen splattered a large blob of ink on the law. This required another pause, while the president painstakingly mopped up the smear with the corner of a blotter. Finally the signing was completed, having consumed ten full minutes.

"I'll bet grinned Roosevelt, "that's the longest time any president ever took to sign his name."

Reform Via Army

The army's greatly expanded food requirements may become the means of forcing long-sought labor reforms in the canning industry, which is noted for its low labor standards, particularly among small plants.

In the past, the army bought canned goods chiefly through local jobbers and wholesalers. But with consumption increased hundredfold, the army plans to sidetrack the jobbers and go direct to the canners.

This opens the way for requiring the canners to comply with the Wage-Hour and Walsh-Healey Acts, both of which have been a bitter bone of contention within the canning industry.

Army purchasing chiefs also are working on a plan for centralized buying of the enormous quantities of canned goods, meats, vegetables and other perishable foods which the draft army will need. Behind this is the desire to avoid a situation where various army quartermasters would bid against each other—to the enrichment of speculators and expense of the taxpayer.

NOTE: Procurement experts estimate that in some types of canned goods, army purchases will amount to 15 percent of the total pack.

Phog Allen Predicts College Football Be Out In 10 Years

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 5.—(P)—Phog Allen predicts college football will die—a suicide—in 10 years.

The University of Kansas basketball coach, once a football mentor, said in an interview:

"Somebody has done something to football and as a result football is on the way out. x x x

"Football and other sports were put in the colleges because they made a boy say 'No' 1,000 times to temptation so that he might say 'Yes' once to victory.

Allen made it plain he had no personal prejudice against the game.

A Duty Performed Too Well

"The camouflage artist camouflaged my uniform last night an' I couldn't find it this morning!"

Chicago have de-emphasized football or are preparing to do so.

Quoting Maj. John L. Griffith, Western conference commissioner, as his authority, the Kansan said that of 640 colleges and universities engaging in the grid game, fewer than 80 made a financial profit from it.

Allen declared he did not think it unreasonable for a player to be helped through college, but—

"The big time starts when any athlete in college gets more than he works for, when a player demands and gets room, board, tuition, books and expenses or won't play. x x x

"In some schools under present conditions football is more professional than it is on the straight out and out pro teams of the National league. Certainly there is less hypocrisy among the professionals."

Allen said he never would give a man 30 cents to play on any of his teams, and never had.

Allen, who often has been ahead of the trend in sports, had this consolation for fans:

"There will always be some great outsport. The college presidents will work out some kind of a great game which will provide a spectacle. That is what the crowd wants, some kind of a spectacle."

"But there won't be any high priced coaches teaching that game. The college presidents will take care of that, too."

Unable To Restore Sight In 'Visualizing Light Rays'

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 5.—(P)—whose late husband, Guy, founded the movement; their son, Donald, and eight others.

Mrs. Schall said she came to Los Angeles in 1937.

"Mrs. Ballard suggested that I move to Los Angeles because it was a city of angels, and after becoming a cataclysm, this would become a city of light," she testified.

She told of "great gas belts" surrounding the earth which she said Mrs. Ballard blamed for past "cataclysms."

"Only through the 'I Am' teachings could we keep these gas belts, and the resulting sinister forces from spreading to the United States, and causing a cataclysm here," Mrs. Schall said the teacher

Stark Cites Payroll Hike

JEFFERSON CITY, Dec. 5.—(P)—Gov. Lloyd C. Stark said today that "with intelligent budgeting" it would not have been necessary for the sales tax department to dismiss practically its entire field force of 125 inspectors and auditors.

The dismissals, most of them effective Dec. 15, were attributed by G. H. Bates, sales tax supervisor, to exhaustion of the department's $700,000 appropriation for salaries during the 1939-40 biennial.

Stark vetoed another $100,000 of the department's legislative grant.

"A scrutiny of the monthly range of sales tax department pay rolls during the past 23 months indicates that, with intelligent budgeting, the present situation need not have arisen," Stark said in a renewal of his long-standing differences with Auditor Forrest Smith over financial matters. The sales tax department is under the auditor's supervision.

The monthly payrolls for the last five months have averaged nearly $6,000 more than the corresponding monthly totals in 1939," Stark pointed out.

"The monthly rate of expenditures increased so rapidly during 1940 that the balance remaining for the December payroll in the sales tax department, it is true, is only approximately $24,000.

"Nevertheless, considering the fact that the payroll for December, 1939, was only $27,491.72, it is apparent that, with $24,000 available for December, 1940, no drastic dismissal of the regular sales tax field force is necessary or justified."

The governor's figures showed the payroll grew from $27,652 in January, 1940, to nearly $33,000 in recent months.

Donnell For Experts In Tax Collecting Job

He Meets With
Committee To Study
The New Set-up

JEFFERSON CITY, Dec. 5.—(P)—Governor-elect Forrest C. Donnell today recommended creation of a state revenue department—staffed by experts—to take over the major job of tax collecting now scattered through six state agencies.

Donnell made the suggestion to a bi-partisan legislative committee he appointed recently to make a study of state government reorganization.

The committee, composed of outstanding Democrats and Republicans of both the Senate and the House, held its initial meeting here today.

Secretary Morgenthau said he was considering in the total a $50,000,000 credit from the Treasury's stabilization fund.

Warren Lee Pierson, president of the Export-Import bank, added:

"I'd hate to see the Treasury do better than us," when asked how much money the bank would lend Argentina.

These statements came as Pierson and Morgenthau prepared to receive an Argentine financial mission to settle some of the details.

Christman 'Most Valuable' Player

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 5.—(P)—Paul Christman, Missouri University's "merry magician" will receive the Ed Hasek trophy at a banquet here Saturday night as the most valuable football player to his team in the Missouri Valley area.

The opposition which defeated the St. Lawrence treaty in 1934, Mr. Roosevelt said, "was a mistaken opposition, based on failure to appraise the full needs of their country in the world situation which was even then developing."

"I said then that 'an opportunity is presented to complete a seaway comparable in economic value to the Panama Canal,' a sea-way to which the public development of St. Lawrence power is inseparably linked.

"It was then an opportunity. It is now a vital necessity."

Emphasizing the need of the St. Lawrence project for defense, President Roosevelt declared:

"The United States needs this great landlocked sea as a secure haven in which it will always be able to build ships and more ships in order to protect our trade and our shores."

"The United States needs, tremendously, the power project which will form a link in the sea-way to produce aluminum and more aluminum for the airplane program which will assure command of the air."

The President declared "selfish cloaking this great project in national interests will tell you that I am national defense in order to gain an objective which has always been dear to me."

"But I tell you," he declared, "that it has always been dear to me because I recognize its vital importance to the people in peace and in war."

Fixed Holidays
Are Proposed

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Dec. 5.—(P)—The Methodist council of bishops has approved a proposal to establish a world calendar on which all "roving" holidays would occur the same date each year and all "dated" holidays would fall on the same day of the week each year.

For instance, on the proposed calendar Christmas would come on Monday every year, Easter on Sunday the second Sunday of the month) the Fourth of July on Wednesday, and Labor day on September 4.

The calendar which the bishops' council approved yesterday would be composed of a 12-month year as at present. The first months of each quarter—January, April, July and October—would have 31 days each, all others 30.

In addition, December would have an extra Saturday at the end which would be a holiday called "December U." An extra holiday would be added at the end of the second quarter in leap years, designated as "Leap Year" or June L.

The council indicated it would ask the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America to consider the proposed calendar at its convention next week.

Before the calendar could go into effect, state, federal and foreign governments would have to adopt it.

Free Brothers
In Murder Case

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 5.—(P)—Leo Brothers, convicted slayer of Alfred J. Lingle, Chicago newspaperman, was acquitted by a circuit court jury today of a charge of murder which had been pending against him here for 11 years.

Brothers was accused of the Aug. 2, 1929, killing of John De Blast, 18-year-old service car driver, a crime he denied in testimony in his own defense. He said he was miles away at a Meramec river resort when the shooting occurred in St. Louis.

Fleeing because he said he had been falsely charged with the slaying, Brothers was arrested in Chicago in 1930 and was convicted of killing Lingle. He was released from prison last June after serving eight years and three months of a 15-year term.

Desires Seaway Be Completed

President Wants
Treaty In The St.
Lawrence Project

DETROIT, Dec. 5.—(P)—President Roosevelt announced today he would ask congress, convening in January to approve a treaty with Canada providing for completion of the St. Lawrence seaway and power project "on which so much of our national safety and welfare depend."

The President's announcement, presaging another battle in congress over the long-debated project (defeated in 1934) was made by A. A. Berle, Jr., assistant secretary of state, in an address before the Great Lakes Seaway and Power conference.

President Roosevelt, in a message to the conference read by Berle, emphasized that the St. Lawrence project would provide millions in new horsepower to speed up defense production, and create a safe haven and waterway for construction of ships to replace tonnage sunk in the war.

"The opposition which defeated the St. Lawrence treaty in 1934," Mr. Roosevelt said, "was a mistaken opposition, based on failure to appraise the full needs of their country in the world situation which was even then developing."

"I said then that 'an opportunity is presented to complete a sea-

Relax Regulations On Giving Salute

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—(P)—The army changed official regulations today to provide that occupants of tanks and other combat vehicles need not get out and salute when the national anthem is played.

Rules previously had required that all vehicles in motion should halt and all occupants except drivers should tumble out, down or off, snap to attention and salute upon hearing the strains of "The Star Spangled Banner."

Under the revised rules, vehicles still must come to a standstill but, generally speaking, only the commanders of motorized combat units have to get to the ground and salute.

ANSWERING THE ETERNAL QUESTION

Recipe of the Week

The following recipe will taste particularly good on a cold winter night.

Baked Oysters and Noodles

1 box (12 oz.) frosted oysters

1/2 cup of butter

1/2 teaspoon salt

Dash of pepper

1/2 teaspoon paprika

2 tablespoons flour

1/4 cups milk

2 cups uncooked broken noodles

1/2 cup buttered bread crumbs

Allow oysters to thaw a little then saute in butter until edges begin to curl. All seasonings, remove oysters and stir flour into mixture in pan. Add milk gradually, stirring until thick and smooth. Cook noodles in rapidly boiling, salted water until tender (about ten minutes). Drain and arrange half of noodles in bottom of casserole, cover with oysters and add remaining noodles. Pour sauce over top and sprinkle with buttered bread crumbs. Bake in hot oven (450°F.) for 15 minutes. Will serve six.

Limburger cheese first was marketed in Limburg, Belgium, from whence it derives its name.

Eight Die From Crash Of Airliner Near To Airport

and other injuries, died early this morning in Holy Cross hospital.

Melton was flying to the bedside of his wife, seriously ill in Mercy hospital. His son, Keller, Jr., 16, who went to the airport to meet his father, found the ship in flames. By the time he reached the burning wreckage, the dead and survivors were being removed.

The boy reached the hospital and was permitted to see his father before he died. Overcome by the shock, Keller, Jr., was being treated at the hospital. Because of her condition, Mrs. Melton was not told of her husband's death.

The List Of Injured:

Stewardess Florence M. Little, 23, Chicago, basal skull fracture, internal injuries.

Owen M. Frederick, 52, Olmstead, Ohio, civilian engineer employed at Cleveland by the U. S. army. Fractured shoulder, broken nose and jaw.

George Haig, 45, partner in the Haig and Francisco firm, photographic advertisers, Dayton, O., fractured arm.

Paul Ryan, 40, Cleveland president, National Refiners Company, leg, arm and head injuries.

Rolliston G. Woodbury, 41, New York City, vice president Textile Banking company. Fractured leg, scalp wound and lacerations of hands.

Theodore F. Paulsen, 40, Wilmette, Ill., department head, Montgomery Ward and Co. Fractured skull, nose and leg.

Lee Wolins, 37, Chicago contractor. Fractured collarbone.

Richard R. Pettie, 26, Bostonia, Calif., and New York attorney. Partial fracture of the right clavicle and fractures of several ribs.

Given Another Plane

The flight began at New York and stops were made at Philadelphia, Akron, O., and Cleveland. Dissatisfied with the performance of one of the motors, Capt. Scott was given another plane at Cleveland to which crew and passengers were transferred.

A light snow was falling when the plane reached Chicago. The weather reports put the ceiling at 1,200 feet and visibility at one mile. Planes had been landing in routine fashion.

The airliner circled the airport for 28 minutes awaiting landing orders from the traffic control tower. It headed in from the southeast after getting clearance orders and Co-pilot Young radioed that the ground could be seen.

Tell Of Accident

Richard Rocas, an employee at the airport, said the plane was making a "perfectly normal" approach to the field when suddenly the motors roared as if the pilot tried to attain height.

"The plane's nose dipped down and it turned slightly to the left," he said. "Then it hit the ground and broke into flames."

The first passenger able to tell of the accident was Woodbury who said:

"The ship circled the airport for some minutes. All I remember about the smashup is that the wing tilted, there was a crash, a woman screamed and I lost consciousness."

Woodbury asserted that there was no sign of anything at fault with the plane as it circled the airport.

George Kougourian, 60, was eating dinner in the kitchen of the bungalow when the plane carried away part of the gable. He was showered with pieces of ceiling plaster. The chandelier also tumbled to the floor.

Capt. Scott had been with the United Air Lines for eight years. He was a former University of Minnesota hockey star, captaining the 1923 team. He was married and had one child, two-year-old boy. Officer Young had been flying United's New York-Chicago route for about a year.

Austin was en route to Los Angeles on business, members of his family said at Cleveland. In 1924 he became president of his firm, builder of some of the nation's largest industrial plants. He was survived by his widow and three children.

The crash was the third fatal accident on commercial airlines in the past four months. A Pennsylvania Central airline plane fell near Lovettsville, Va., last August 31, killing 25. Ten died when a UAL plane struck a Utah mountainside Nov. 4.

Vice President Herlihy said that the crash was the second in the company's 10 years of operation on the Cleveland-Chicago route, during which 55,000 trips have been flown.

Three men were pardoned in Alabama as innocent after serving seven years for bank robbery. It seems they were robbed of something.

Twenty-First Pettis County Annual Farm Bureau Meeting Will Be Held This Saturday

To Take Place In Assembly Room Of Court House With Ralph Dow Leading

The Twenty-first Pettis county annual Farm Bureau meeting will be held in Sedalia this Saturday. This event will begin at 10 o'clock in the Court House assembly room with President Ralph Dow presiding. The session will begin with group singing which will be led by Mrs. Clay Brown, with June Thompson as accompanist.

The program this year has as a special feature a talk on agriculture and national defense by J. W. Burch, director of Missouri Agricultural Extension Service. The 4-H clubs of the county will participate in presenting a report of the national 4-H Club Congress by Nadine Demand, and the speech of Dorothy Helen White on the "Heart H in Farm Bureau."

The male and the mixed quartet which represented Pettis county in the state quartet contest will be on the program. All the members of this quartet are from the Paul Rothenberger family.

Successful Cooperation

Another special feature of the afternoon program is that of a talk on a successful service cooperative, by Wencker L. Meyer of Lincoln county.

Reports of Farm and Home activities will be given by the chairmen of the Farm Bureau committees and chairmen of other committees who are responsible for these activities in the counties. Emmett Boltz will make the first report pertaining to organization and administration.

He will be followed by Thomas J. Raines, who will report on credit and rural electrification. The home economics part of the report will be made by Mrs. Paul Reid reporting on the home and community activities and Mrs. Frank Barrick reporting on the activities of the Home Economic Extension clubs. Following those two ladies will be Mrs. W. P. Tucker, county 4-H club council chairman, reporting on rural youth. Frank B. Van Dyke who has served as chairman of the live-stock committee will give a report of their activities and the live-stock work in the county.

Saving Our Soil

"Saving Our Soil" is the topic to be reported on by Edward Hefner, who will be followed by W. E. Ragin, chairman of the County Agricultural Conservation committee, on "1940 and What's Ahead." The legislation committees report will be given by Mrs. George Fichate and insurance will be discussed by W. P. Hurley.

G. D. Ferguson, chairman of the service committee, will discuss their part on the program.

In addition to presiding during the day and conducting the election of new officers, Mr. Dow will give a report of the annual state Farm Bureau meeting.

The county extension agents will close the program with their discussions of the 1941 plans for Pettis county. The committee this year has attempted to make a well-varied program of interest not only to Farm Bureau members but to their friends who are interested in agriculture.

Invite 4-H Leaders

The 4-H club boys and girls of Pettis county, with their leaders, are especially invited and urged to attend this annual meeting.

"Facing the Future of American Agriculture" is one of the most important and interesting activities which rural Pettis county is approaching. This meeting has been planned to enlighten those people who are facing that task.

The meeting in the Court House assembly room will adjourn at noon to the First Methodist church basement where a contributed luncheon of meat-loaf, scalloped potato

AAA Question Box

(Questions and answers printed below represent authoritative information supplied to The Sedalia Democrat-Capital by the Missouri State AAA Committee cooperating with the Pettis County Committee.)

QUESTION: If I run short of feed will it be possible, under the 1940 corn loan program, for me to pay off the loan and redeem my corn?

ANSWER: You may redeem your corn at any time by paying off the loan and any accrued interest. The borrower retains title to the corn at all times.

QUESTION: What interest rate do the loans bear?

ANSWER: Three per cent.

QUESTION: I am farming one farm which I own and I am renting another from a landlord on a crop share basis. He insisted that I plant more than my corn acreage allotment on his farm; however, I have not exceeded the corn acreage allotment on the farm which I own. Can I seal the corn raised on my own farm?

ANSWER: Yes, the corn raised on the farm you own is eligible for a loan.

QUESTION: Are loans available on shelled corn from the 1940 crop?

ANSWER: Yes, but the corn must be husked and properly stored in the ear until July 1. After July 1, 1941, loans will be made on 1940 shelled corn that contains 13.5 per cent moisture or less and grades No. 3 or better.

QUESTION: Who is eligible for a loan?

ANSWER: Any person, partnership, association or corporation producing corn as land-owner or tenant upon whose farm the 1940 corn acreage allotment has not been exceeded.

QUESTION: If I deliver my corn in payment of the loan will I be required to deliver the same quality as that which I sealed?

ANSWER: Corn delivered as collateral in payment of your loan must be shelled and grade No. 3 or better. Borrowers are required to make up any loss in quantity and any deficiency in grade below No. 2.

N. B.: An error appeared in the last question of last week's Question Box. The question should have read:

QUESTION: Can I purchase my landlord's share of the corn for feed and seal all of my own corn?

ANSWER: Yes.

Cold, Crisp Weather Brings On Meat Canning At Farms

Cold, snappy weather reminds homemakers that meat canning time is at hand. Miss Flora L. Carl, nutrition specialist, University, pointed out many important factors of Missouri College of Agriculture to be kept in mind.

Regarding equipment either glass jars or tin cans can be used. If glass is used, widemouthed jars are recommended because of the time and energy saved.

Rubber rings should be tested for elasticity by stretching. The fit of the lid and rubber is tested by putting hot water in a jar, placing the ring and lid firmly in place and inverting the jar. A perfect fitting lid and ring will not permit any leakage. After testing, keep jar, ring and lid together until food is prepared.

Tin Recommended

The use of tin in place of glass is recommended by the Bureau of Home Economics for families canning as much as 500 quarts. The cost is about the same and the time required is less. Paper rings in the lids of tin cans are preferable to rubber or enamel. Tin cans cannot be used in oven canning.

Meat, a non-acid food, needs to be pre-cooked before canning. This may be done in the oven or on top of the stove. Liquid always cover the meat to preserve color and flavor. One-half inch head space should be left at the top of the jar and one teaspoon of salt used to a pint or pound of meat.

In canning liver, put some fat in the jar. Sausage for canning should be in casings or balls, contain no toes, peas, slaw, cake and fruit-salad, with hot coffee and rolls, will be served.

Following the luncheon, the afternoon program will continue at the church.

Honey

Oho produces 20,000,000 pounds of honey a year, most of this being clover honey. Production is so scientific a basis that the bees are supplied with combs for the honey, thus do not have to "make their own."

Nimble Fingers Are Sewing Now

Nimble fingers really fly especially about Christmas time in the Arator Home Economic Extension club. At their recent meeting when Christmas suggestions were being shown several members were showing and discussing crocheting and other types of handwork.

Their exhibit of this type of achievement shown at the Home Economics Extension Club achievement day last fall proved the capabilities of these women.

Although crocheting, embroidery, and other fancy work was not one of the lessons of the club the past year, the women used their club meetings as a period of exchange on ideas for this lovely art.

"It may not be a lesson but it is an expression of what we can do with our hands" says one of the women. The gifts of these women will make many a receiver happy because of that "personal touch."

Mrs. Read's Play To Be Presented

Recently honor came to Pettis county dramatics workers in their being asked to present a home-written three-act play at State Farm and Home Week. Since that time a large number of Pettis county people have asked if there might be some presentation of the play within the county in order that they might see "The College Chest" which has been so highly complimented.

This opportunity will present itself to Pettis county people next Tuesday and Wednesday nights, December 10 and 11, when the Quisenberry 4-H Club will sponsor its presentation at the Quisenberry schoolhouse.

June Thompson and Mary Louise Lane, who are in the play, are both members of the 4-H club and Mrs. P. S. Read, the author of the play, is the community 4-H leader.

Agriculture Commissioners To Convene In New Orleans

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Dec. 4—That the twenty-third annual convention of the National Association of Commissioners, Secretaries and Directors of Agriculture will convene in New Orleans, La., Monday morning, December 9, for a four-days session, was announced today by Jewell Mayes, secretary-treasurer of the 48-state organization of the State Departments of Agriculture.

Commissioner Olcott F. King of Connecticut is the association president. All states will have speakers on the program. Commissioner Harry D. Wilson of Louisiana, is convention host.

The Monday afternoon session will be devoted to Latin-American addresses, the guest speakers to be Carlos Gonzales, Commissioner of Agriculture of Cuba, discussing "Relations Between Cuba and the United States," E. A. Pradille, Foreign Commerce Secretary of New Orleans, speaking on "Spanish-American Countries and Relationship To the United States."

In planning the family diet, meat is an important item. Variety in meats is important because the nutritive values differ a great deal. For an average on a liberal diet the following years supply is suggested:

1. Two 200-pound hogs which will provide 300 pounds of lean meat and 100 pounds bacon and lard.

2. One-half of a 600-pound beef which will provide 150 pounds of lean meat.

YESTERDAY: Embarrassed and angry when Mr. Bailey tells him Andre is taking Ronnie to the dance, Wes hurries away, then decides to go to the party anyway. TONIGHT: Lona Montoya also alone, stays with her. Suddenly Ronnie breaks in on their conversation: "I thought you had a date with me tonight."

ANDRE MEETS CONFEDERATE

CHAPTER X

THE sudden appearance of Ronica beside him, looking down with frank but quizzical eyes, left Wesley York momentarily speechless. And then, when he remembered to stand up, he only stammered rather inanely.

"I—I—you—good evening! I—"

"But Wesley, I thought you really said you'd take me to the dance. Was I simply—stood up?" Ronica said it earnestly, and glanced once at the Mexican girl.

"Oh! Oh no! No, Ronica, I—pardon me, Miss, uh, Miss Montoya, Miss Bailey, and—uh—"

"This is Andre Giradeau, Miss Montoya, and Dr. York. I thought daddy said you and Andre came together and so knew each other, Wes. But I'm all mixed up about everything, it seems."

Lona Montoya had only nodded. Andre said nothing but looked on coldly. For a long moment nobody else spoke, either, and after waiting for Wesley to stop pointing awkwardly at her and trying to say something, Ronica suddenly smiled. Music resumed at that instant, and so she took Wesley's hand and put her arm around him.

"Let's dance, then talk, Wesley. All right?"

"Oh, I—yes! We must—I am afraid I dance very poorly indeed. I—you see, I dance only a very little, for courtesy's sake at the university affairs, and—"

"You're doing beautifully. It's just an easy one-two, one-two step, easy as walking. We won't try any frills if you don't want to. Can you tell me what happened now? Didn't you really have a date with me?"

"Oh, Ronica!"

She laughed then, dancing very close to him. "You are sure it's that bad?"

"No, I mean—I did think I had a date, but—"

Ronica sighed elaborately. "Okay, pal, no hard feelings. I think I get it, even though it stings. The Montoya girl is lovely, all right."

"But Miss Bailey, you don't understand!" Wesley was appalled.

"So you've started 'Missing' me again! Shall I go back to Dr. York?" I thought we had become friends."

IT is doubtful if ever a young man suffered any more acutely than Wesley York suffered during this dance. His distraction inevitably caused him to stumble, too. When the dance was over Ronica guided him back near Andre and the Mexican girl again.

"Professional dancer, aren't you, York?" Andre grinned broadly.

"Hush, Andre! Sarcasm is rude. I'm sorry you are injured, Miss Montoya." Ronica looked at the other girl and her crutch. But Lona's answering gaze was calculating.

"Rudeness seems to be contagious," Lona suggested, in flat tone.

"I don't think I understand."

"I—being wealthy, and famous, and getting shot at on the border, enough to make everybody overlook rudeness, Miss Bailey?" Was not Dr. York sitting with me? I did not hear him ask you to dance!"

"Oh!"

"Please," Wesley put in now. "Let's not misunderstand anybody's, uh, intentions. I am sure that—"

Andre interrupted, sarcastically. "Oh, no indeed, ladies and gentlemen. Let's all pick daisies! Now seriously, Ronica, let's get this straight. I want to know who—"

"Okay, boys!" Ronica's words were clipped now and her chin went up, a signal Andre Giradeau at least recognized from past experience. "We're all sparring around the point so I'll talk plainly. Here's what—"

"Dr. York asked to take me to this dance. He came for me, I know, but somehow Andre managed to shoot him off. I still don't get that."

"But as for you, Miss Montoya, I did have a date with him and he won't deny it. If he wants to jilt me, he darn sure can. But he and I will have words first, and we're going to start right now! Andre, you stay here; Wesley and I are going off to stroll in the moonlight!"

Lona glanced down, saw the ring. Slowly, her eyes widened. She looked up at the crowd quickly. She looked right and left. Before Andre's gaze her expression changed completely. She took a deep breath and ventured one studied look at his face. For a long moment she said nothing. Then—

"That iss a—pretty ring. Yes?" "Your crutch must be a nuisance," ventured he.

Her lips tightened, and her voice dropped to a whisper. "Fool!" She almost spat it. "Why have you waited so long? Thees crutch drive anybody crazy, and the high ones are demand action from us at once!"
